MASKED MOB LYNCHES 3 MURDERERS

NO PAINTED GHOSTS FEAR ATTEMPT AT LAST HOMAGE TO CREEK CHIEF

Head of Faltering Nation
Is Buried With Paleface Ceremony.

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Dec. 10.—Attended by the same burial service that is customary among protestants, the body of the late George Washington Grayson, for more than 50 years chief of the Creek Indians, was buried in Greenwood cemetery at Eufaula, less than two miles from the place where he was born, 77 years ago.

Ghosts of painted, blanketed forefathers, dim memories of the beating tom-toms and the wailing voices hovered about the presence of hundreds of tribesmen and their families who attended the service, although they paid last homage to the departed chief in the ceremony of civilization and in keeping with Mr. Grayson's wishes. A pastor of the Baptist church at McAlester officiated while William McCombs, a Creek minister and confederate soldier who fought side by side with Captain Grayson in the Civil war, conducted a prayer meeting in the tribal tongue at the grave.

None of the traditional Indian burial ceremonies was performed at either the home or the cemetery. News of his death was received in the custom of the "Pale Faces," because for many years their chief's greatest work was devoted to educating the Indian to the white man's civilized manners and promoting among them better living conditions. Years ago the burial services for a Creek chief would have continued for days.

Mr. Grayson, though chief of the Creeks, was only a quarter-blood. His father was more Scotch than Indian. When the old Asberry mission on the North Fork opened to the Creeks in 1850, Grayson was one of the students. Finishing his education here, he was selected by the Creek national to attend the Arkansas college at the expense of the tribe.

After two years in the Arkansas institution, the Civil war broke out and he enlisted in the Second Regiment of Creek Confederate Volunteers under Colonel Chilly McIntosh. Promotion came rapidly to him and he was discharged as captain.

Mr. Grayson married Miss Anna Stidham soon after the war. She was the daughter of George Washington Stidham, one of the Creek leaders who met in the council which determined that the Creeks should have an alphabet. Mrs. Grayson, now 71 years old, was also a quarter-blood and considered the most beautiful woman among the tribe.

For more than 40 years after his marriage Mr. Grayson served as national treasurer of the Creeks and as a member of the House of Kings and the Tiger clan. At the time of his death Mr. Grayson had almost completed his work of gathering data for a tribal history.

METROPOLITAN OPERA STAR TO SING IN ADA

Marie Rappold, the noted soprano, will arrive in Ada Tuesday, December 14, and give a concert at the Normal auditorium. Ada should be congratulated in having the opportunity to hear this great singer who comes from the Metropolitan grand opera and is one of the leading Edison singers. Admission charges at larger places with no extra charge for reserve range from $2 to $5 a seat, but in Ada the prices are only $1.50 seats. The reason it is cheaper in Ada is because the Normal, the high school, the Lions club, and the Commercial club are jointly bringing the big attractions here for the benefit of the citizenship of Pontotoc county in hearing and seeing the best, something of an educational value, something worth while. Although the lyceum numbers are well patronized in Ada, they are costing more money than realized from the sale of tickets. Tickets are now on sale at Gwin & Mays drug store and the board also to check off reserve seats without extra charge.

FEAR ATTEMPT AT COUP 'D ETAT BY RADICALS

Reports of Revolutionary
Move in Germany Sent Out From Belgium.

(By the Associated Press)
BRUSSELS, Dec. 9.—The newspaper Lepeuple announces that railway traffic has been suspended in both directions between Belgium and Germany since yesterday afternoon that there is talk of a German coup d'etat. The Belgium ministry of foreign affairs states that it has no confirmation of this rumor.

The Belgium rumors of a German coup d'etat are unsupported by advices from any other quarter and lacking these and in view of the Belgium foreign ministers denial of any knowledge of any such occurrences, the reports are received with reserve. They come out of a comparatively clear sky at the moment, although there have been charges and counter charges by extremists and anarchists in Germany that revolutionary plots were hatching here. However, no recent indications of any attempt to disturb the present German government by force are eminent.

Recent reports have not revealed any exceptionally disturbed industrial situation.

OBREGON TO AID OKLAHOMA FAIR

The Oklahoma free state fair next fall will be the recipient of some of the friendly advances of President Obregon of Mexico towards the United States.

The Mexican national artillery band, a 140-piece organization, comprising the most talented musicians in the Mexican army, will play throughout the week of the fair here.

The Mexican national band played this year at the Dallas fair. It was sent there as one of the first steps of President Obregon's attempt to win the lasting friendship of the United States.

Send Exhibits Here.
With the band the Mexican government will send a great national exhibit. This will include industrial exhibits of all classes and kinds, from the priceless jewels and minerals taken from the soil of Mexico, to the fine silk made in that country.

This was the news brought back from the annual meeting of the International-American association of fairs and expositions at Chicago by Mrs. Ethel Murray Simons, secretary, and Edwin W. Wats and Tamm Bibby, directors of the Oklahoma free state fair. The meeting was held December 1-2.

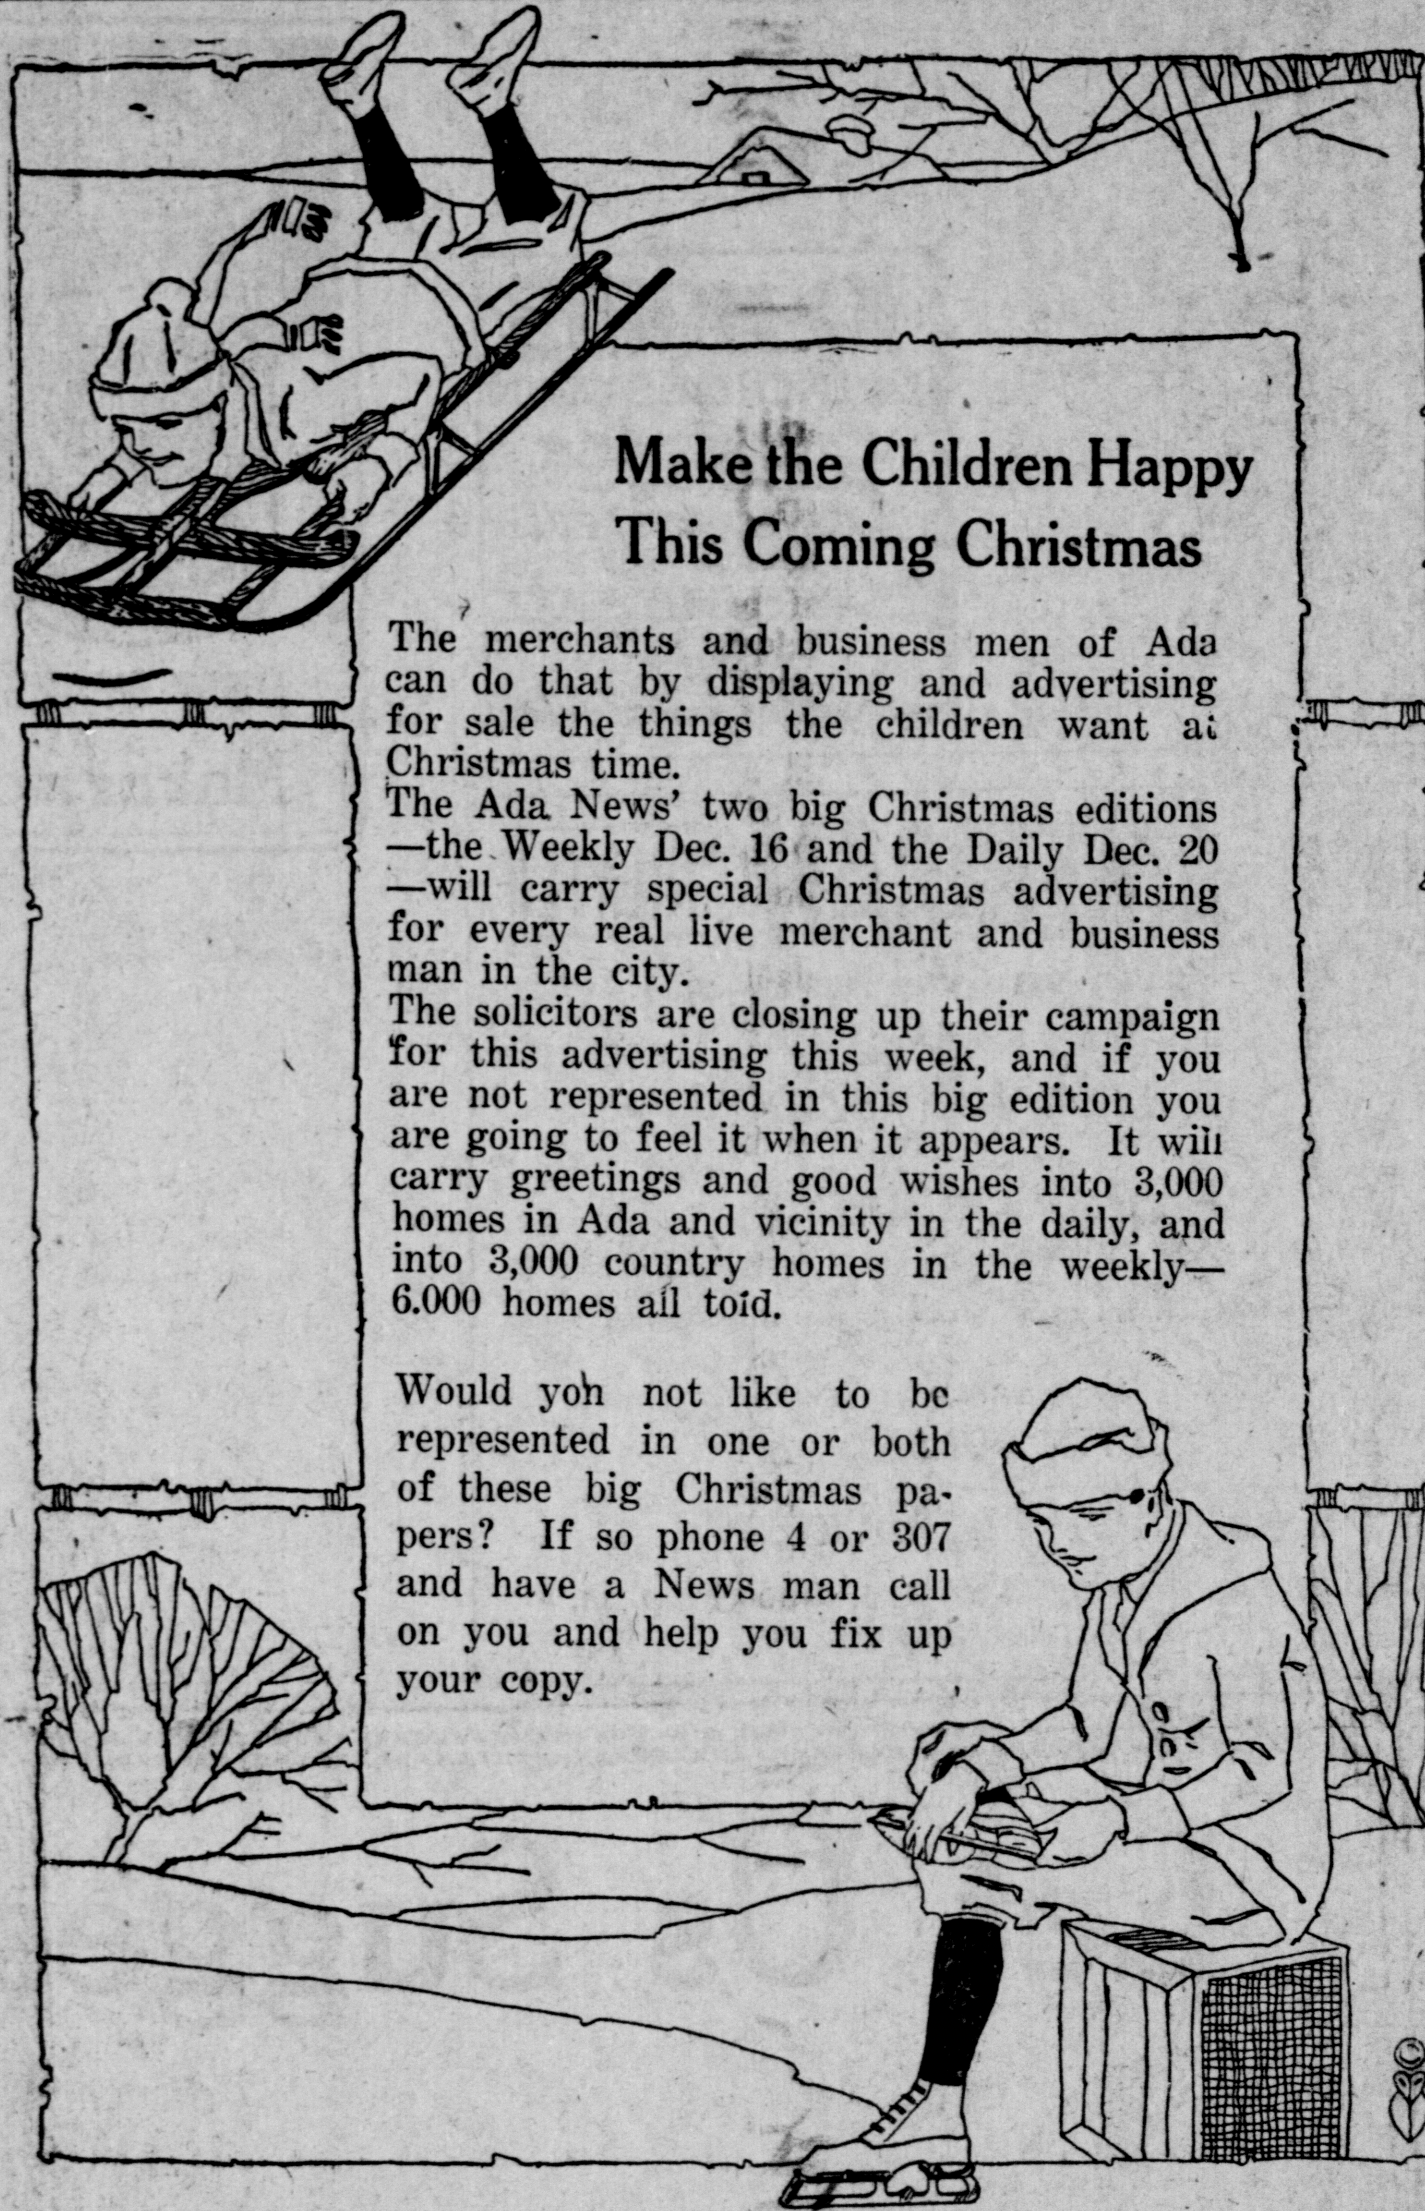

The dates of the Oklahoma free state fair for 1921 were fixed at the meeting. October 3-8 is the date, the fair officials said.

The Muskogee fair officials had a big hand in the merging of the two national fair associations, the International and American, into one big organization, the International-American. The one organization was split a few years ago, and the merger was effected only at this meeting.

It will carry greetings and good wishes into 3,000 homes in Ada and vicinity in the daily, and into 3,000 country homes in the weekly—6,000 homes all told.

Would you not like to be represented in one or both of these big Christmas papers? If so phone 4 or 307 and have a News man call on you and help you fix up your copy.

EVANGELIST APPEALS FOR SOUL WINNERS

Devoting his sermon to the winning back of lost souls, Evangelist "Mike" Cassidy last night inspired his hearers at the Methodist revival with the desire to help in bringing outsiders into the fold of Jesus Christ.

Mr. Cassidy sought to show how much more important it is to care for the soul than for the body. The soul lives for ever, he said, while the body needs must perish and go back to mother earth from which it came.

"You can't be a soul winner," he said, "until you realize the value of the immortal soul."

He raved the fact that so many people show so much more interest in their hogs and livestock than in their children.

"The United States is spending millions of dollars in the forestry service," he said, "and in fighting the boll weevil. But what are we doing to save our boys and girls from hell?"

The soul is worth more than the body, he said, adding "We would hazard our lives to save bodies from a burning hotel; why not get busy saving the souls of those in sin from hell eternal?"

He asked all present to join in helping to bring sinners into the ways of God.

Sunday morning Mr. Cassidy will preach on "The Source of Power for Spiritual Life and Purpose." Sunday afternoon he will deliver a stirring sermon to a mass meeting of men on "The Man with a Purpose." Sunday night his sermon will be on "Hell."

The public is invited to attend the meetings.

EUROPE DUMPING RADICALS ON U. S., SENATE IS TOLD FOR DOUBLE CRIMES

Foreign Governments Finance Movement to Send Rable Here

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Charges that foreign governments "are financing the movement of radicals from several countries in Europe to the United States," were made today by Representative Knutson, republican of Minnesota, who opened debate in the house on the Johnson bill placing a two-year restriction on immigration.

"Spain is a seething mass of anarchy," Mr. Knutson declared, "and its government is dumping it on the United States. We have more now than we know what to do with and we ought to deport them."

He added that if tonnage were available from ten to fifteen million Europeans would be migrated to the United States within a year.

PROGRAM CALLS FOR BIG ARMY, BAKER SAYS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—"Provision of the army reorganization act fixing the peace-time strength of the regular army at approximately 280,000 men are mandatory and leave no discretion to anybody," Secretary Baker told the house military committee today in explaining his action in ordering recruitment up to that figure.

The secretary had been asked by Chairman Kahn why the limit of $175,000,000, provided in the army appropriation bill, had been exceeded.

Mr. Baker said the approximate figure was merely the joint judgment of congress and the war department, making a forecast as to the probable maximum recruitment during the year.

"There has been," he added, "no agreement or understanding that it would not be exceeded."

Uncle Sam to Go After Farm Implement Trust

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Re-opening the government anti-trust suit against the International Harvester company and the institution of "judicial proceedings" against a number of associations having to do with farm implements, is recommended by the federal commission in its annual report presented today to them by Vice President Marshall.

The commission says the increase of 73 per cent in farm implements from 1914 to 1918 is in part due to price understanding or agreement between manufacturers and to a more limited extent the same is true of dealers.

Judicial proceedings "against the associations who have been active in restraining trade" is proposed, the commission naming the National Implement and Vehicle association, the Southern Association of Wagons, the Carriage Builders association, the National Federation of Implements and Vehicle dealers and the Western Federation of Farm Implement dealers.

In regard to the reopening of the case against the International Harvester company, the commission

Men Who Attacked Girls and Killed Officers Are Hanged in Cemetery.

(By the Associated Press)
SANTA ROSA, Cal., Dec. 9.—George Boyd, Terrence Fitts and Charles Valento, accused of having murdered James Petray of Sonoma county and Detectives Miles Jackson and Lester Dorman here Sunday afternoon, last, were taken from the county jail here early this morning and hanged.

At 12:30 o'clock this morning a mob of 90 to 100 men wearing black masks entered the jail, overpowered the officers there, took their keys and removed the prisoners.

Hanged in Cemetery.

Fifteen machines carried the party. They moved quickly down the street to a cemetery, three blocks beyond the city limits. Ropes were all prepared and the men were hanged to an oak tree inside the cemetery. The head lights of three automobiles were used to light the tree selected for the hanging. Members of the mob were stationed to prevent intrusion. These guards and many of the mob were armed. Not more than five minutes were required by the mob to enter the jail, overpower the officers and remove the prisoners. Within 15 minutes the three alleged gangsters and murderers had been lynched.

For another 15 minutes the mob waited at the scene to make certain their grim task was completed, then its members departed, leaving the bodies swinging in the darkness.

Crowd Grows Quickly.
But another crowd soon gathered to take the places of the executioners. The coroner was notified and so were city and county officials. The new crowd gathered quickly as news of what had been done spread.

They found a weird scene. Lights of a few automobiles and again in greater numbers lighted the scene. From the oak tree the bodies swung in the breeze in and out of the glare of the headlights.

The three men were ex-convicts. Boyd having served two terms, Fitts three and Valento one. Boyd and Valento had been identified last Monday by three young women as members of the gang which attacked them at a house in Howard street, in one of the more densely settled sections of San Francisco.

GO TO THEATRE

McSwain Today.
William S. Hart, the famous motion picture star, firmly believes that there is no human love or loyalty that exceeds that of an animal for a man. Probably Mr. Hart's most cherished possession is his beautiful Pinto pony the veteran of many a hazardous feat before the camera. Since the filming of "The Toll Gate," the new Hart picture coming to the McSwain theater today, Bill loves the Pinto more than ever—with reason.

In his role of Black Deering, leader of a bandit gang, Bill is hotly pursued by a sheriff's posse. He escapes them at one point by making a leap of over 60 feet from a cliff into the raging river below. But again they pick up the trail. This time Bill, as Deering, seeks to elude them by riding his Pinto pony into the river bed and following the stream as it leads into a subterranean passage under the cliffs.

The location for this scene was Sonora, in northern California. Bill rode his pony into the Stygian blackness of the underground water trail. But suddenly the water grew deeper. The Pinto started to swim. Its hoofs struck an underwater ledge, and he slipped backward, throwing Bill into the icy cold stream. The beast tried in vain to climb the steep sides of the cave. He tumbled backward. Then followed a grim fight with death on the part of both man and beast, until at least the Pinto saw a glint of light and swam to it with mad speed, dragging Bill Hart after him.

"He sure saved my life," said Bill later, "and he can have all I have got."

New Liberty Today.
The cast appearing in "The Mutiny of the Elsinore" today at the Liberty theater are all survivors of a studio wreck that nearly necessitated the remaking of the whole picture. The picture was filmed for the most part at sea, off the California coast, on the old sailing ship, the Mary Winkelman. However, when it came to picturing a real storm, the photography was not sufficiently effective for screen reproduction, so the exciting storm scenes were taken at Metro studios in Hollywood, Cal.

A ship was constructed duplicating the Mary Winkelman. Tons of water were projected across the decks. The studio ship was unable to stand the strain. It split in two and the characters were hurled down to the studio stage amid the water and wreckage.

Several of them were severely injured, including Mitchell Lewis, who plays the role of the hero, the mate of the ship "Elsinore"; Helen Ferguson, the skipper's daughter; Casson Ferguson, Noah Berry, William V. Mong, Sidney Dalbrook and John P. Lockwood.

"The Mutiny of the Elsinore" is an all-star C. E. Shurtleff production, released by Metro.

American Today.
These extreme décolleté gowns may be very charming and all of that, but they are one of the many banes of an actress' life. They mean that an actress has to go to the added trouble of making up her chest and back as well as her face and arms, for one of the important rules of the studio is that nobody must appear before the camera without every bit of exposed flesh "made-up."

In one of the important scenes of "Blackbirds," Justine Johnstone's first starring picture for Realart, the hurried dive for powder puffs and lip-sticks and the cast slowly ambled on the set. It was a scene of a house party given at the home of a millionaire and society was supposed to be there ensemble. Of course, the gowns had to be in the height of fashion—which isn't any height at all, but as low as the law permits! Director Dillon called briskly: "Come on now, give me some action! you women are supposed to be panic-stricken by the appearance of the police. Turn around! I don't want to see your faces! I want your backs!" A series of "Oh's!" and "My God's!" suddenly rent the air. "What's the matter now?" asked Director Dillon. "We haven't touched up our backs since morning," explained the women. "We thought you were going to take a front view and we only made up our faces."

"Lights out!" roared Director Dillon. "Hurry up. Get those backs powdered up!" Another wild scampering of powder puffs and cries of "Marie, please powder my back. I'll certainly come out of this dress if I stretch so far." "Who's got a powder puff?" "Please, right between the shoulder blades. I perspire so dreadfully there"; and "For Heaven sake, don't powder all over this new black dress of mine, even if you are doing me a favor!"

Oh, for the life of a movie actress! Justine Johnstone, called by artists the most beautiful girl in America, décolleté gowns and all that goes with it can be seen today at the American theater when Manager George presents Miss Johnstone's first starring picture for Realart, "Blackbirds," from the play by the late Harry James Smith.

WILSON TO GET NOBEL PEACE PRIZE DEC. 10

(By the Associated Press)
COPENHAGEN Dec. 7. — Announcement is made that the Nobel Peace Prize will be conferred on President Wilson December 10.

The Nobel Peace Prize carries with it a grant of about $40,000, which is one-fifth of the annual interest on about $9,000,000, left for the purpose by Alfred Nobel, the Swedish linguist, and inventor of dynamite, who died in 1896. The only two Americans who have in the past received the Nobel Peace Prize were Theodore Roosevelt in 1906 and Elihu Root in 1912.

MULES EATING UP THE SOUTH

James Blames the South's Financial Condition on Its Mules.

(By E. T. Leech, Editor, the Memphis Press.)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 24.—"The mules are eating up the south."

I have this on authority of George R. James—and James ought to know. He was head of the cotton division of the war industries board, and is a millionaire merchant, financier and farmer.

James blames the south's financial crisis on its mules. He declares they typify the agricultural conditions which made such a crisis possible.

A Mule to 12 Acres. "Cotton is raised chiefly by tenant farmers," he explained. "Some of these farmers pay money rent, but most of them are 'share croppers' who share their cotton production with the land owner. They farm from 12 to 15 acres with each mule—and it takes half of the year's crop to buy enough corn and hay to feed the mule! On the other half the family lives—after it has paid its debts."

Most tenant farmers are eternally in debt. The cotton industry is founded on credit. The tenant gets credit for all his supplies from a country merchant, cotton broker or bank, mortgaging his crop before it is planted. The country merchant borrows money for such credit from a city broker or banker; the broker borrows from banks; the country bank borrows from city banks and the city from the federal reserve banks—a long line of debt.

Nub of Situation. James says if the south raised feed for its mules and food for its people it wouldn't have to be eternally in debt. That is the whole nub of the situation, he says. The cotton states are, for the first since the Civil war, showing the intention of doing this—of first raising their own food and feed and, second, raising cotton on the remaining acreage. Thus, in times of stress, the south could feed itself and hold its cotton for better prices. Cotton would be a "profit crop." Now cotton represents food and clothing and everything else which sustains life.

"Food and Feed First." Throughout the south this doctrine of "food and feed first" is being preached. "Diversified farming" is called. The farmers are responding and the south will raise the greatest food crops in her history in 1921. This is the optimistic side of its troubles of today.

A large part of the 1920 cotton crop will be held for better prices. If it were not for the farmers' debts the merchants' debts, the brokers' debts and the banks' debts, the "holding" movement might be 100 per cent successful. As it is, the cotton is being marketed very slowly. Farm price advances, except in cases of absolute necessity.

The reduced acreage cry of a year ago has largely given way to an appeal for diversified crops—and the movement is making real progress.

Its promoters claim crop rotation and improved farming methods will allow a greater cotton production on an actually reduced acreage, while at the same time providing land on which the south can raise its own food.

BILLIONS DOLLARS COLLECTED BY REVENUE AGENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Collection of $5,407,580,251 in taxes and efforts to control the liquor traffic under the prohibition act, was the principal work of the revenue bureau during the last year, Commissioner Williams said in his annual report made public to-night.

The annual collection was the greatest in history he added, while in prohibition enforcement the bureau was faced with creation of an organization which embraced all states and Hawaii, Porto Rico, and Alaska. Total income and profits taxes made up the bulk of the revenue obtained by the government $3,956,936,003, but the report shows that an additional $295,809,355 came from tobacco taxes.

The levy on distilled and fermented liquors produced $139,401,149 and miscellaneous and war excise taxes brought in $883,863,871. The remainder of the revenue was from capital stock, stamp and special taxation.

Mr. Williams noted the collection of $13,117,785 from aliens who were departing for their native lands after a temporary residence in the United States.

OKMULGEE BUILDS MORE THAN $2,000,000 WORTH

OKMULGEE, Dec. 10.—More than $2,000,000 in building permits were issued in Okmulgee during the 11 months ending December 1, according to a report on building operations made public here. The total number of permits numbered 576 in these months, the records show, of which 47 were issued in November, totaling $238,400. One permit issued last month called for the erection of a residence to cost $150,000.

They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.—Isa. 2:4.

POLITICS AND THE ALIEN

It is said that at least fifteen million Europeans are ready to enter the United States just as soon as they can pack their traps and get their passports ready. This immense mob of aliens include in their number some of the world's most vicious characters. Thousands of them are anarchists, pledged to destroy all governments and overthrow all existing laws. It is upon this class that Russian bolsheviks are depending to crush the government of the United States. That army of immigrants really constitutes an army of invasion, landing on American shores to wage war on American institutions. Aside from their inherent viciousness they aggravate the labor question and the question of the unemployed.

A fervid if not frantic appeal is being lifted to congress now in session from every quarter of the country urging the enactment of laws sufficiently drastic to check this alien invasion. There can be no mistaking the wish and temper of the American people. They want these aliens checked in their westward progress before they sail for American shores. But from Washington comes the assertion that congress will play fast and loose with the public, that in this case it will dilly dally as it wont, that it will finally pass a measure so defective as to be almost useless.

The reason for congressional indifference is that millions of hyphenates want their European kinsmen to come to America and these hyphenates are voters. Many men are sitting today in the halls of congress who would be elsewhere had it not been for the votes of hyphenates in past elections. So in order to placate this unassimilated foreign element congress is said to be planning to dodge the issue as long as it possibly can and then enact a measure that will lull the American people into a false feeling of security and at the same time permit all aliens to land on our shores.

The war taught us what alien citizens mean to this country. It taught us the serious menace to our institutions of millions of people out of sympathy with our government and owing superior allegiance to a foreign government. We learned that lesson full well. But a congress of politicians is willing to ignore that lesson thru fear of compromising their standing with the alien element of their constituency.

Speaking of accomplished linguists, congress is the only known body that can do nothing in forty languages.

The world's greatest optimist is the man who would ship a cargo of soap and bath tubs to Russia.

Had you noticed how much brighter the sun shines after a cloudy spell is ended?

"Arrested on a charge of immortality, Oklahoma girl takes poison," says a headline on the front page of Tuesday's Ardmoreite. Probably wanted to prove it wasn't so.

A community may be said to be highly civilized when it arrests a man for letting a calf graze in the alley and honors a man for turning a seven passenger car loose on Main street.

The war may not have been fought and won with chemistry, but since the war ended a great number of our citizens, particularly in the mountainous districts have taken up the study of chemistry.

If grammarians hadn't taught us that the word 'dead' cannot be compared, we would be tempted to ask which is the deader, Governor Robertson's fifty million dollar road bond issue or President Wilson's League of Nations.

Just because several thousand Gringos attended the inauguration of Obregon the people of old Mexico should not decide that we think more of Mexico than formerly. That country is still decidedly wet.

Another reason why Great Britain doesn't hurry up with home rule for Ireland is that no matter what kind of government she offers South Ireland she will have to send a million soldiers to make North Ireland accept it.

After all is it not somewhat strange that the imperative necessity for a two million dollar hospital was not discovered 'till after the election, when it was too late for the people to pass on the matter as a political issue?

BULGARIA MAY BE TAKEN IN BY LEAGUE

GENEVA, Dec. 9.—The strong opposition of the members of the "little entente" to the addition of Bulgaria to the League of Nations was materially weakened this morning by the committee on the admission of new states by a report from Marshal Foch stating that Bulgaria has fulfilled her treaty obligations better than any other enemy country.

Final action on the application probably will be taken by the committee this afternoon. It is believed that Marshal Foch's report may overcome the opposition of the "little entente."

NOTED ATHLETE TO SPEAK AT THE CENTER MEETING

CENTER, Okla., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Ward Chase, champion wrestler of the colleges of the southwest and now assistant director of boys' and girls' club work in the state of Oklahoma, has just telephoned that he will address the club rally which the Center community is holding Friday night, December 10, in honor of Eldo Whipple, the Pontotoc county boy who has just returned from a week's trip to the international livestock show at Chicago, which trip he won by making the highest score of any boy in the state of Oklahoma on judging grain and livestock at the state fair this fall.

Mr. Chase is a good speaker and is well versed on the subject that he will speak about. He is one of the best livestock judges in the state and many will remember his good work in this line at our county fair last fall. Many will also remember his addresses to the agricultural classes at the Normal last summer, and he will always find a hearty welcome awaiting him in Pontotoc county.

The people of all the surrounding communities are invited to hear Mr. Chase at Center Friday night and to help the country boy who won highest honors in the state against a large number of opponents.

City Starts Work of Repairing Ada's Damaged Pavement

Work has been started on the repairing of streets which were cut up by laying of the water lines this year. A force of men began the job yesterday and a concrete mixer was put to work this morning. It will be but only a few days until all the paved streets in Ada will be as good as new so far as the damage done this year is concerned.

Much complaint has been made because these places have been left unfixed. It will be only a matter of a short while until the streets will be in good condition.

Notice.
The Woodman Circle will meet in regular session Monday evening, December 13, at 7:30. All members are urged to be present as new officers are to be elected.

"UP IN MABEL'S ROOM" IS GENUINE COMEDY

Brimful of sparkling wit and teeming with humorous situations, "Up in Mabel's Room" gave a full measure of genuine entertainment at the McSwain theatre last night. Spicy from the very start, the delightful comedy took you from the luxurious living room into intimate contact with Mabel in her own bedroom without a suggestion of the vulgar.

The characters were admirably selected for the different parts. There is not a single novice in the company. The women were all good to gaze upon, even Martha, the bachelor maid, Garry, the poor, innocent husband around whom the whole story centered, actually appeared to be as simple as he acted in his efforts to recover the rose-pink chemise he had given Mabel, and which he was so anxious to keep from his little wife of one month.

Garry was good. Too good to be true, Mabel said, and that was why she wanted to make him appear to be just a little bad. The result was almost disastrous to the poor boy. No doubt it would now be a hard matter to make anyone who saw the show believe in conviction on circumstantial evidence. A whole mountain of evidence was piled up against Garry, but it finally simmered down to the rose-pink chemise and the curtain goes down with everybody happy.

The comedy carries a moral, perhaps, in illustrating that some of us are not always as bad as we are painted.

Each can of G. Washington's Coffee is equivalent to ten times its weight in roasted bean coffee. Measure the cost by the cup—not by the size of the can.
